

Being prepared is being connected.

When disaster strikes
we need each other:
so the time to build those connections is now.

Talk with friends and family

Know your neighbours

Connect to your community

You're more prepared than you think

